Subject: Funding of 'DragTivism Jr' project under the EU's Erasmus+ programme

The EU is funding the 'DragTivism Jr' project under the Erasmus+ programme. The project aims to include minors aged between 14 and 17 in actions promoting the LGBTQI+ community, so that they can 'discover their alter ego' and 'celebrate LGBTI+ culture'.

Funding this kind of initiative under an educational programme such as Erasmus+ is a purely ideological action that has a clear goal: to make minors doubt their sexual identity.

In light of the above, could the Commission please clarify the following:

1. Why is the Commission funding purely ideological and harmful projects within a programme that provides educational, vocational and personal support?

2. Is the Erasmus+ programme planning to support any other initiatives that aim to promote or celebrate LGBT+ culture and if so, which ones?

3. In light of Europe's demographic crisis, is the Erasmus+ programme supporting any initiatives that promote the traditional family model?
