Subject: Worrying developments in the European Union in respect of the ongoing State of the Union debate

The most recent State of the Union debate, on 10 September 2025, made it clear that the European Union is mired in a deep crisis. Instead of solutions to the real problems faced by citizens, new programmes costing billions, additional debt, further centralisation of power in Brussels and ideologically motivated measures such as the Green Deal are being put forward.

1. How can the Commission justify the fact that its migration policy is promoting terrorism, gang delinquency and a massive increase in anti-Semitism in Europe, and what is it doing to counter these developments?
2. How is the Commission taking responsibility for the fact that its policies – from COVID-19 to the Green Deal sanctions packages – have brought Europe to the brink of economic, social and cultural collapse and plunged millions of people into poverty, unemployment and hopelessness?
3. Why does the Commission talk about freedom and democracy while preparing measures that will effectively transform Europe into a surveillance state along the lines of China?
