to the Commission

Rule 144

Afroditi Latinopoulou (PfE)

Subject: European inaction towards ongoing Turkish violations in the EEZ of Greece and Cyprus

Greece and Cyprus, as frontline Member States in the Eastern Mediterranean, are constantly confronted with Türkiye's provocative and illegal actions, in violation of the international law of the sea, in maritime areas where Greece and the Republic of Cyprus exercise sovereign rights.

These actions by Ankara constitute a direct provocation and an attempt to create a fait accompli against two EU Member States, dangerously escalating tension in the region. However, the Commission's response to Turkish provocations has so far been inadequate and limited to rhetoric, resulting in Ankara perceiving it as tolerance.

In view of the above:

How does the Commission intend to react to the ongoing Turkish violations against Greece and Cyprus, which constitute a flagrant violation of international law and the sovereign rights of two Member States, undermining the credibility of the European Union itself in defending its borders and the rights of its members?
