Subject: Recovery and Resilience Facility in Spain – question five

Since 31 August 2021, the Spanish Government has been refusing to publish the final implementation data for the NextGenerationEU Recovery and Resilience Facility.

According to the General Intervention of the State Administration (IGAE), as of 31 July 2025, payments made thus far total EUR 43.208 billion. This represents 26.3 % of the funds allocated to Spain.

In light of the above, can the Commission say:

1. If, in a four-year period, the Spanish Government has made payments (which are not even final) amounting to EUR 43.208 billion, does the European Commission consider that the Spanish Government will be able to invest EUR 120 billion in the remaining one year granted under the Recovery and Resilience Facility? Does the European Commission consider it possible for the Spanish Government to invest 74 % of these funds in a single year, when it has managed to invest only 26 % in a four-year period?
2. Has the Spanish Government asked the European Commission to modify milestones and targets, payment requests or deadlines in order to speed up the implementation of this mechanism? If so, what reasons did it give for this and what new agreements have been reached?
