to the Commission
Rule 144
Gheorghe Falcă (PPE)

Subject: Recognition of qualifications and expansion of training programmes for Ukrainians and Moldovans to facilitate their European integration and reconstruction

In the context of Europe's continuing efforts to support the reconstruction of Ukraine and of the EU's commitment to the values of solidarity, inclusion and social cohesion, it is essential the support given targets not only the reconstruction of physical infrastructure, but also the building of human capital and the integration of young Ukrainians and Moldovans into the European educational and professional space.

In this respect, various independent initiatives and assessments, including the AMEERU White Paper 2025 – Reconstruction of Ukraine (Bucharest), have stressed the importance of expanding European training and mobility programmes to build human capital and facilitate the recognition of vocational skills.

1. Can the Commission evaluate the possibility of expanding vocational training and educational mobility programmes (such as Erasmus+, ALMA and other relevant initiatives) for young Ukrainians and Moldovans, with a view to supporting recognition of the skills acquired, especially in the case of refugees and persons displaced internally or across borders?
2. Will the Commission propose that a European legal framework be developed (in the form of a directive or bilateral agreements) to enable automatic recognition of the diplomas and technical certificates obtained by students in Ukraine, so as to facilitate their professional integration in the Member States and contribute to the economic and social reconstruction of Ukraine?
