Subject: Current state of implementation of the European Child Guarantee in the Member States

The European Child Guarantee (ECG) is currently at the stage of implementation of the national plans until 2030. The European Parliament, in its resolution of 29 April 2021 – adopted with 510 votes in favour, 42 against and 139 abstentions – has stressed the need for Member States to integrate the ECG into all their public policies. Member States are responsible for its implementation through national action plans, while the Commission offers support through the Technical Support Instrument.

According to the 2025 European Semester Report, Spain recorded a rate of children at risk of poverty or social exclusion of 34.5%, the second highest in the European Union. However, Spain's biennial report lacks precise information on investment in the ECG, and monitoring of its impact remains limited. Over the past two years, no significant progress has been observed in its implementation. In light of the above:

1. Can the Commission detail the current state of implementation of the European Child Guarantee in the Member States?
2. In particular, how does the Commission assess Spain's progress in implementing the Guarantee and the measures planned to strengthen it?
