Question for written answer E-002528/2026/rev.1
to the Commission
Rule 144
Lukas Mandl (PPE)

Subject: Rule of law in Ukraine in relation to EU investments

The Commission has sent monitors to observe hearings in two ongoing civil suits[1] that have brought the Ukrainian subsidiary of the insurance group UNIQA before the Ukrainian courts[2]. Proceedings have been adjourned several times and an appeal judgment[3] in UNIQA's favour has been overturned by the Supreme Court. Two Ukrainian state banks stand to benefit handsomely from the disputed insurance payment/payout.

1. What has the Commission learned from its monitoring of the hearings in Case No 910/10742/23, and what are its thoughts on proceedings so far with regard to/in light of rule-of-law standards?

2. How is it factoring cases with alleged procedural delays or other irregularities into its overall assessment of Ukraine's progress in the rule of law?

3. What instruments and measures does it envisage to bolster legal certainty for EU businesses that are active or investing in Ukraine?
