Answer given by High Representative/Vice-President Borrell i Fontelles
on behalf of the European Commission
(25.10.2024)

Since the beginning of Russia's full-scale aggression of Ukraine, the EU and its Member States have delivered unprecedented levels of military support for the Ukrainian armed forces. Between 2022 and 2024, the EU mobilised EUR 6.1 billion to incentivise Member States' deliveries of military equipment in view of addressing Ukraine's pressing military and defence needs. In addition, in March 2024, the EU increased the financial ceiling of the European Peace Facility by EUR 5 billion, by establishing a dedicated Ukraine Assistance Fund. This brings the total financial support allocated via the Facility to EUR 11.1 billion¹.

Beyond these aggregated numbers of military support to Ukraine provided at the EU level, the EU is not in a position to disclose any information on military support provided by individual Member States. The Commission does not coordinate arms deliveries at the EU level. It remains the prerogative of each Member State to communicate on its national military support to Ukraine.
