Answer given by Mr Brunner
on behalf of the European Commission
(8.10.2025)

The Commission refers the Honourable Member to previous replies on the topic¹.

The Commission does not fund any organisation that does not fully respect fundamental rights and values. In line with the provisions of the Financial Regulation² for the award of funds, the Commission carries out rigorous selection processes, including different checks on grant applicants based on objective criteria. Information about Commission funding can be obtained from the Financial Transparency System (FTS)³.

EU funded grant projects are subsequently monitored to ensure that beneficiaries respect EU values during the implementation phase, as required in the grant agreement.

A person or entity may be excluded from participating in award procedures or from implementing EU funds if they are in one of the situations provided in Article 138 of the Financial Regulation, which includes grave professional misconduct by engaging in incitement to discrimination, hatred or violence against a group of persons or a member of a group or similar activities that are contrary to the values on which the EU is founded enshrined in Article 2 of the Treaty on European Union. In such cases, the grant may be suspended, terminated or reduced, and the funds recovered.
