Answer given by Mr Síkela
on behalf of the European Commission
(21.8.2025)

The EU and its partner countries have jointly committed to international frameworks such as the United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women, and the Convention on the Rights of the Child. Within this context, EU support helps translate shared commitments into practical improvements in people's daily lives.

Information on organisations in Latin America that received EU funding over the past five years, including amounts, is available on the Commission's website¹. Given the breadth of the portfolio, the Commission cannot provide a full overview of outcomes within the space of this reply. However, projects are accompanied by reporting, monitoring and evaluation mechanisms, and related documentation is publicly available².

EU funding is governed by the Financial Regulation³. Grants to non-governmental organisations must support an EU policy objective or the functioning of a body aligned with it. Funded actions must reflect EU values, including human rights, rule of law, gender equality, and sustainable development, and are subject to monitoring and audit. Entities found in breach of EU values or legal obligations may be excluded through the Early Detection and Exclusion System. Organisations listed under EU Restrictive measures are not eligible to receive EU funds.

Cooperation is based on partnership and mutual respect. Programmes are developed jointly with partner governments and stakeholders and reflect shared priorities and international commitments.
