As laid down in Article 12(1)(a) of Council Regulation (EU) No 269/2014¹, part of the ‘Ukraine Territorial Integrity’ sanctions regime, the Commission and the Member States inform each other regarding funds and economic resources (assets) frozen under the said Regulation. The applicable regulations, including the aforementioned Regulation, specify that any information that the Commission receives in relation to such frozen assets can be used only for the purposes for which it was provided or received. Therefore, the Commission is not in a position to provide information on the breakdown of assets frozen in each individual Member State.

Nonetheless, the Commission can confirm that the total amount of assets frozen in the EU under Regulation (EU) No 269/2014 is about EUR 28 billion.

In addition, some EUR 210 billion worth of reserves and assets of the Central Bank of Russia are currently immobilised in the EU, in line with Council Regulation (EU) No 833/2014², part of the ‘Russia economic sanctions’ regime.
