1. What proportion of the milestones and targets under the Recovery and Resilience Facility had been achieved by Member States by the end of the second quarter of 2025, and what is the breakdown of milestones and targets reached per Member State?
2. Does the Commission have projections regarding the fulfilment of milestones and targets under the Recovery and Resilience Facility by Member States?
3. Does it expect that 100% of these will be met, or does it believe that there will be milestones and targets that will not be met, thereby preventing the transfer of 100% of the available resources?

Answer given by Executive Vice-President Fitto on behalf of the European Commission
(17 September 2025)

The Recovery and Resilience Facility (RRF) was established as a temporary instrument with a clear end date in 2026. In line with the legal deadlines and the temporary nature of the Facility, Member States must meet all milestones and targets by 31 August 2026.

According to the RRF Regulation ⁽¹⁾, Member States must report twice a year in the context of the European Semester on the progress made in the implementation of their recovery and resilience plan.

The Delegated Regulation (EU) 2021/2106 ⁽²⁾ further specifies this obligation, setting the deadlines for the bi-annual reporting at no later than by 30 April and 15 October.

Member States report their progress in achieving their milestones and targets due in the past and due twelve months ahead. The bi-annual reporting data is self-reported by the Member States.

Out of the 4 454 milestones and targets that were due by the second quarter of 2025 based on the indicative timelines in the Council Implementing Decisions, 84% (3 761) were either assessed as satisfactorily fulfilled (2 586) or were reported by Member States as completed (1 175).

The latest available figures regarding the progress on implementation on milestones and targets by Member States are published on the Scoreboard ⁽³⁾.

In the communication ‘NextGenerationEU — The road to 2026’ ⁽⁴⁾, the Commission has set a clear path forward guiding Member States to take all the necessary actions to ensure a smooth implementation of the RRF in its final months.
