Question for written answer E-004530/25
to the Commission
Moritz Körner (Renew)
(13 November 2025)

Subject: Aircraft

In accordance with Regulation (EU) No 833/2014, many aircraft located in the EU have been grounded since 28 February 2022 as a result of the sanctions against Russia.

What is the total number of aircraft that are currently grounded in the EU due to the sanctions against Russia?

Could the Commission also please provide the breakdown of this number by Member State?

Submitted: 13.11.2025

The Commission does not possess the specific data regarding the total number of aircraft currently grounded in the EU due to the application of Council Regulation (EU) No 833/2014 ⁽¹⁾. Consequently, it is unable to provide a breakdown of these numbers by Member State.

Council Regulation (EU) No 833/2014 establishes the legal framework for EU's restrictive measures. However, the responsibility for the enforcement and monitoring of compliance with these sanctions lies primarily with the competent national authorities of the Member States. Each Member State is tasked with implementing and ensuring adherence to the sanctions within its respective jurisdiction.
