Answer given by High Representative/Vice-President Kallas
on behalf of the European Commission
(10.8.2026)

1. EUvsDisinfo[1] is a website that provides information and analysis concerning Russia's foreign information manipulation and interference (FIMI) activities for a broad audience, including citizens of the EU and the EU's Eastern neighbourhood, as well as policymakers, journalists, researchers and civil society organisations. With this aim, the current language coverage comprises several of the most widely spoken official EU languages, together with languages of the EU's Eastern neighbourhood.

2. The European External Action Service (EEAS) attaches importance to ensuring that awareness of FIMI activities reaches audiences across the EU. The EEAS continues to examine ways of further enhancing the accessibility of the EUvsDisinfo website, including by considering AI-assisted translation technologies, which may enable the gradual expansion of language availability.

3. The EEAS supports efforts to maximise the accessibility and reach of communication on FIMI, both through the languages used, as well as the formats and platforms on which EUvsDisinfo content is made available. In addition, cooperation with authorities and partners in certain Member States has successfully helped extend the reach of EUvsDisinfo content in local languages. Opportunities to further expand the linguistic coverage of EUvsDisinfo, including through AI-assisted translation, are currently under assessment.
