Answer given by Executive Vice-President Séjourné
on behalf of the European Commission (26.6.2025)

As already indicated in the written answer to the Parliamentary question by the Honourable Members E-002705/2024¹, the Commission notes that national courts and review bodies referred to in the directives on remedies in public procurement (Directive 89/665/EEC² and Directive 92/13/EEC³, as amended by Directive 2007/66/EC⁴ and Directive 2014/23/EU⁵), are best situated to assess in the first place, according to the facts of each case, whether contracting authorities and contracting entities respected their obligations under EU law as transposed into national law in a specific award procedure.
