Motion for a resolutionParagraph 4b (new)Motion for a resolutionAmendment*

4b. Calls on the Commission to present a dedicated action plan to fight anti-Muslim racism, as an implementation instrument of the EU Anti-Racism Strategy 2026-2030, with clear objectives, measures and timelines, Commission services responsible, and indicators for monitoring progress; calls for the action plan to address the specific manifestations of anti-Muslim racism across employment, education, housing, healthcare, public services, hate crime and hate speech, with particular attention to the intersection of religion, racialisation and gender, including the multiple and intersecting forms of discrimination faced by Muslim women; calls, furthermore, on the Commission to establish a cross-Commission coordination mechanism bringing together the Coordinator on combating anti-Muslim hatred and the Coordinator on combating racism, under the political oversight of the Commissioner for Equality, to ensure coherence and avoid institutional fragmentation;

Paragraph 5

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

5. Calls for the development of a European methodology to identify signs of Islamist entryism, including confusion between religion and politics, institutional doublespeak, financial opacity, the recurrence of certain partnerships, proximity to already identified networks, the production of activist reports, the reconstitution of structures and the instrumentalisation of anti-discrimination frameworks;

5. Condemns any discourse that seeks to problematise the ‘entryism’ of any minority group into European politics, as it risks denying to that minority group any legitimate means of political participation in their own society and has a catastrophic history in European politics;

Paragraph 8

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

8. Asks for the European institutions, agencies, advisory bodies and Commission services to strengthen their vigilance before granting institutional recognition, an invitation, a partnership, participation in a consultation or access to events to structures likely to fall within Islamist entryism strategies;

8. Recalls that participation in democratic life, including political engagement, community organisation, advocacy activities and dialogue with European and national institutions, constitutes an essential component of democratic societies and cannot, in itself, be considered evidence of undue influence, infiltration or so-called ‘entryism’; stresses that using such concepts as grounds for questioning eligibility for public support risks undermining freedom of association, equal access to democratic participation and the diversity of civil society;

10a. Notes that the report entitled ‘Frères musulmans et islamisme politique en France’ (Muslim Brotherhood and political Islamism in France), published by the French Ministry of the Interior in May 2025, is largely based on the statements of self-proclaimed experts whose work has been repeatedly criticised for a lack of methodological rigour and for advancing unverified narratives ; underlines that several of these individuals were identified in a 2022 investigation by European Investigative Collaborations, following revelations by The New Yorker, as being connected to networks supported by anti-democratic foreign actors and involved in a coordinated campaign aimed at discrediting Muslim civil society organisations across Europe;

12a. Is concerned by the underutilisation and ineffectiveness of Council Directive 2000/43/EC^{1a} of 29 June 2000 implementing the principle of equal treatment between persons irrespective of racial or ethnic origin, commonly known as the Racial Equality Directive; calls for stronger enforcement of EU anti-discrimination law especially laws prohibiting racial and anti-Muslim discrimination; calls on the Commission to follow up with legislative action to address the gaps in the directive as identified in its 2022 study report, notably regarding discrimination in law enforcement and racial profiling;

^{1a} Council Directive 2000/43/EC of 29 June 2000 implementing the principle of equal treatment between persons irrespective of racial or ethnic origin (OJ L 180, 19.7.2000, p. 22, ELI: <http://data.europa.eu/eli/dir/2000/43/oj>).
